20 Lighting Ideas That Will Make Your Room More Manly

Lighting is one of the most highlighted parts of your home or office. Nowadays, the stereotypical male space takes one of two forms: a cluttered man-cave with black walls and a shredded leather sofa in front of a widescreen TV, or a stark minimalist room with metallic fixtures and severe geometric lines. While these two aesthetics are unquestionably male, they represent only the outer reaches of the masculine design spectrum; masculinity, like femininity, is far more subtle and complicated than that. By simply adding a song light fixture with proper combination, you can transform a room into a sophisticated masculine ambiance room.

Lighting does more than merely provide light in your house. It genuinely creates an environment and serves the same purpose as any other item of décor. Simply said, it sets the tone for the place and reflects the owner's personality. With the right lighting, it gives depth to the masculinity of the area, as well as style that can be embraced by both sexes based on their own preferences. To help you in choosing your light fixture, we listed the best 20 lighting fixtures that can make a room manlier.

Plura Flush Mount Ceiling Light

Cerno's Plura Flush Mount Ceiling Light is a basic geometric composition with a minimalist aesthetic. Nick Sheridan's goal with Plura was to fix the seams and edges while reconciling their relationships with one another. As a result, an adaptable fixture with a graphic, sophisticated feel has been created. Plura, which is made of solid wood and has a frosted polymer diffuser, produces softly diffused ambient lighting that is ideal for modern bedrooms, living rooms, and hospitality spaces.

- Pros: made with solid wood
- Cons: not LED
